DALLAS REGIONAL MOBILITY COALITION ANNOUNCES 2009 BOARD OFFICERS

DALLAS – January 22, 2009 – The Dallas Regional Mobility Coalition (DRMC) is pleased to announce the transportation advocacy group’s new slate of officers for 2009. The appointments are as follows:

- Ellis County Judge Chad Adams, co-chair;
- Cedar Hill Mayor Rob Franke, co-chair;
- Dallas City Councilwoman Linda Koop, vice chair;
- Irving City Councilman Rick Stopfer, treasurer; and
- Duncanville City Councilman Grady Smithey; secretary.

“I look forward to working alongside this group of respected leaders determined to identify and support feasible transportation solutions that will benefit our entire region,” said John Carpenter, executive director of the DRMC. “Their knowledge and expertise will continue to be very valuable during the 81st Texas Legislative Session.”

About the DRMC

The Dallas Regional Mobility Coalition (DRMC) is an organization of cities, counties and public transportation agencies in a five-county region on the eastern side of the Metroplex that advocates for transportation policy, funding and solutions on a local, state and federal level.

The Dallas Regional Mobility Coalition has four critical objectives:

- (1) Improve mobility and safety
- (2) Improve air quality
- (3) Enhance quality of life through reduced commuting and travel times
- (4) Support economic vitality

The DRMC meets on the first Friday of every month at the Dallas County Health and Human Services building, 2377 N. Stemmons Freeway, in Dallas. For more information, please call (972) 621-1103 or visit www.dallasmobility.org.
